

The brightest light for the darkest night.

The Black Series takes a new step forward with a series of three watches that all feature a new, and long-lasting bright green Lumibrite on the hands and indexes. As green is the color that stands out best in the dark and as the deep grey color of the dials reduces reflection to a minimum, these watches offer the highest level of legibility in the dark. In addition to their 'night vision' prowess, the watches in this series offers 200 meter water resistance, sapphire crystals and a choice of executions tailored for divers and adventurers alike. All three watches are offered as limited editions.
